

New St. Louis Publication “Who’s Who Diversity in Color”
Announces its 18 “Most Intriguing People”

(St. Louis, MO) - A distinctive new publication, Who’s Who Diversity in Color, will debut to St. Louisians on May 14, 2015 at an Inaugural Reception at Ball Park Village, St. Louis, MO.

Publisher Willis stated, “The Who’s Who Diversity in Color” publication will be the most inclusive of its kind, celebrating and documenting the achievements of all people of color, and will feature men and women in various professions and recognizing the businesses and organizations who serve them.”

The Foreword and Introduction Writers for the book are Carmen Jacob, CEO of NextGen Information Services, Inc., and Michael P. McMillan, President of the Urban League of Metropolitan St. Louis, Inc., respectively.

Here are the 18 “Most Intriguing People” that will be honored at reception; Gilbert Bailon-St. Louis Post Dispatch, Rhonda Broussard-St. Louis Language Immersion School, Jomo Castro-AT&T, Nicole Colbert Botchway-State of Missouri, Margarita Flores-Anheuser Busch, Roberto Garcia-Listo App, Keith & Carri Griffin-DELUX Magazine, Cillah Hall-Gazelle Magazine, Dr. Ghazala Hayat-Saint Louis University, Jasmine Huda-KMOV, Christopher Pickett-Greensfelder, Herta Shikapwashya-Urban League, Munsok So-Drunken Fish, Royce Sutton-5/3 Bank, Peter Tao & Helen Lee-Tao & Lee Assoc., Dr. Dwaun J. Warmack-Harris Stowe State University, Starsky Wilson-Deaconess Foundation and Michael Zambrana-Pangea Group

Ericca stated, “These are some of the most celebrated, dynamic and diverse leaders who represent the best of our city. Who’s Who Diversity in Color is honored to have these folks as our inaugural “Most Intriguing People”!

She continued, “Our Unveiling Reception will not only honor these 18 individuals, but will highlight and document the achievements of other minorities in the region. The (2) two hour event will feature a complimentary open bar, heavy appetizers, live international entertainment, and great networking opportunities for professionals”.

Rebecca Bennett, Emerging Wisdom LLC is this year's Mistress of Ceremonies and entertainment by Will Robinson, Korean Dancer Joy Desloge, and comedian Monique Marvez. Photos attached.

The Willis' were formerly associated with Who's Who Publishing/Real Times Media, the company that owned the umbrella entity that produced the first ten editions of "Who's Who in Black St. Louis." Erica was the Associate Publisher and Keith was employed as the National Director of Market Development and Sales.

For more information, please contact Erica Willis at (314) 473-5257 or email at Ericca@wwdicstlouis.com or visit www.whoswhodiversityincolor.com